

We're selecting our candidates for next year's Scottish election and I want you to be part of it.

Ruth Davidson

The Scottish Conservative and Unionist Party is about to 'rank' our candidates for the 2016 Scottish Parliament election.

The higher up the list a candidate is ranked, the better their chance of being elected next year.

In the past, it's only been the members of political parties who have had a say in candidate rankings.

But this time, the Scottish Conservative and Unionist Party is doing things differently. We want all our supporters in every corner of Scotland to have their say.

Everyone who supports our Party can help decide their Scottish Conservative representatives in Holyrood.

If you are a supporter of the Scottish Conservative and Unionist Party and you'd like to take part in deciding our candidates for next year's election, you can register at:

scottishconservatives.com/register

Or, just fill in and post back the registration form opposite and - over the next few weeks - we'll send your ballot paper.

Be part of it by registering today.

REGISTER AT: scottishconservatives.com/register

OR: I confirm that I am a Scottish Conservative supporter and on the electoral register. I want to register to take part in ranking the Party's 2016 election candidates. ☐ (please tick box)

Registration closes at midnight on 31st October.
